FOR RELEASE UPON RECEIPT

Congressman Charles W. Whalen, Jr. (R-Ohio) today issued the following statement on the National Labor Relations Board's Trial Examiner's ruling ordering a new election in the National Cash Register Company union representation case:

"Naturally, I am pleased that after considerable prodding on my part, the NLRB Trial Examiner has finally reached a decision in the NCR case.

"According to the law, the Company, the Employees Independent Union and the International Electrical Workers Union now have the right of appeal.

"An appeal no doubt would take several more months to resolve. Therefore, the interested parties must weigh their right of appeal in light of the effect the ensuing delay would have on the morale and economic well-being of NCR's 14,000 employees."
